Steve Worthington, Peter Barnes

"Mitchell" Nancy A. Tremblay, 2020-04-23 Cats. Be they feral, running amok among us, or the charming creature who has given the pleasure of their company as they sit curled up and purring on your lap. Then again, there are those elusive moggies, the ones that slink through the night, their presence made known only by the solitary caterwauling that echoes through back alleyways and quiet neighborhoods. Cats. Do we really know them? Of course not, but in these pages, Mitchell will lead you on his personal journey of lives past and present. He will share a rare glimpse into the world of his culture, the ancient rules, cat society, and their real history. Mitchell, a feral-turned-domestic, tells all—or as much as he sees fit to reveal. He will make it clear to cat devotees and those with lingering aversion towards the feline species, that each and every cat has his or her purpose and most assuredly has a fantastic tale to tell.

Against Autonomy Sarah Conly, 2013 Argues that laws that enforce what is good for the individual's well-being, or hinder what is bad, are morally justified.

Once in a Blue Moon Steve Worthington, Peter Barnes, 2011-08-31 Once in a Blue Moon is the story of one man's never-ending affair with Manchester City. Be it playing, watching or managing, Steve 'Worthy' Worthington's life in football has never been easy. Having suffered an almost fatal road accident in the week before his ninth birthday, any aspirations for global stardom as a player were crushed beneath the wheels of a speeding Triumph Spitfire in 1971. As a spectator he fared no better. Over the years Manchester City and England addicts have experienced many disappointments - most of which he was there to see. As manager of his beloved Sunday League club Lee Athletic, success was a word used only on the odd occasion when he persuaded his team to turn up sober and in time for kick-off. But two things that have always kept him going were his love of the local 'Indie' music scene and an ability to find humour during the darkest of times. Join him on a vivid journey that takes you into the beating heart of 1960s and '70s working class Manchester: through five decades of football (and a bit of cricket), music and people, in the eyes and ears of an everyday bloke who turned constant failure into final triumph.

Our Cats and All About Them Harrison Weir, 2019-11-21 Although Weir wrote this book in the 19th century, it remains a topical resource for the up to date cat lovers. In addition, it tells people who love cats all the trivia about cats.

Where the Rivers Meet John Wain, 1988

Writers' Rejects Deronda S. Wright, 1949

Echoes of a Shattered Age Ramon Terrell, 2018 Evil never sleeps. Technology is dead, and the world grows wild with dangers born from legend. Kenyatta and his friends brave unknown horrors to stand against a massive horde of the most feared monsters in the abyss. Demonic enemies appear out the shadows, and five warriors unite to stop the tide of evil before it washes over the land, and envelopes the world in darkness.

Running from the Night Ramon Terrell, 2018-01-03 Vampire's stalk the streets of Vancouver B.C. Out for a nighttime jog around Vancouver's Stanley Park, Jelani witnesses what he thinks is a murder, but is far worse. A vampire feeding. Having seen what no human is allowed to witness, Jelani finds himself hunted by undead enforcers intent on killing not only him, but everyone he loves. With his life in shambles and monsters walking among humans, Jelani must use his wits and skill to save himself and his friends from a fate more terrible than death.

Out of Ordure Ramon Terrell, 2016-08-18 For countless ages, fairies have existed in human lore as protectors of children, sprinklers of magic dust, and bloomers of flowers. Yeah well, fairies have other jobs, too. Enter Fecanya, Ordure Engineer at Fey World Maintenance Services. She hates her job. Not that anyone who processes... leavings, would, but hey, you wanna trade? When news of an impending meltdown at a wastewater treatment facility, and a messy war between two gorilla factions (ever seen a gorilla projectile?) arrives at the office, Fecanya must use her many talents to prevent both disasters. But is there a mischievous hidden presence behind this? With the threat of a city covered in filth of epic proportions, and a jungle at the brink of great ape warfare, it will take more than a visit with her stuffy satyr therapist for Fecanya to prevent a disaster and unmask the hidden enemy, before the leavings hit the fan.

Darkness of Day Ramon Terrell,2017-07-08 A newly-turned vampire. A lost soul. And a quest for vengeance that could lead to disaster As a recently reborn immortal, Jelani struggles to accept what he's become. The thirst torments him. Amid infighting among the undead, the Eldest Hunter's pursuit of Jelani and his friends has ended. But Remy still hunts them with reckless abandon. Desperate to keep his friends alive, Jelani struggles to make use of his new nature. But the more he embraces it, the greater the darkness enveloping his soul. Horrified when he nearly feeds on his love, he's forced into an impossible choice: remain with her as the biggest threat to her safety, or walk away and shatter what's left of his heart. But when the immortal conflict around him proves bigger than he ever imagined, survival becomes his only concern. How can Jelani keep his friends safe when he can't even protect himself? If you love conflicted vampires, badass werewolves, and books you just can't put down, you won't want to miss Darkness of Day, the third book in Ramón Terrell's action-packed urban fantasy series.

Jeffrey Bernard is Unwell Keith Waterhouse,1991 Gambler, journalist, fervent alcoholic and four-times married Jeffrey Bernard writes the Low Life column for the Spectator magazine chronicling Soho life as well as offering a very personal philosophy on vodka, women and race-courses. From this, Keith Waterhouse has brilliantly constructed a play (the title being the euphemism used by the Spectator when Bernard is incapable of writing his column) which is set in the saloon bar of Bernard's favourite Soho pub, the Coach and Horses. Having passed out in the lavatory, Bernard awakes in the early hours of the morning to find himself alone and in the dark. Unable to contact the landlord, he is resigned to spending the rest of the night with a bottle of vodka and an endless chain of cigarettes, narrating a story of hilarious anecdotes and witty reminiscences which are enacted by two actors and two actresses who bring to life the various characters who populate Jeff 's world. Starring Peter O'Toole, later succeeded by Tom Conti then James Bolam, the play enjoyed a hugely successful run at the Apollo Theatre, London.
