Le Messenger Hervé Richez,2010-03-26T05:00:00+01:00 À Jérusalem, la découverte du tombeau de l'apôtre Jacques le Mineur a tourné au drame. Simon Cohen, son découvreur, est mort dans l'explosion de son laboratoire où il examinait les restes de cet apôtre qui pourrait être le propre frère du Christ. Cet attentat a été commandité par Christus Causa, groupuscule catholique radical qui ne supportait pas que l'on puisse remettre en cause le mythe de la virginité de Marie. Sarah Cohen, généticienne et veuve de Simon, reprend la quête de son mari. Elle part à la recherche d'une relique du Christ pour comparer l'ADN de Jésus à celui de son supposé frère et prouver au monde l'existence de cette fratrie : à Vienne se trouve la Lance de Longin, l'arme qui aurait transpercé le flanc du Christ sur le Mont Golgotha. Le père Gabriel, entré en religion par rédemption après avoir été garde du corps d'un gouverneur devenu président des Etats-Unis, est recruté de force par Christus Causa. Le groupuscule souhaite l'utiliser pour avoir l'oreille de l'homme le plus puissant du monde. En son sein, Gabriel réalise la menace qui pèse sur Sarah, la femme du découvreur du tombeau. Il décide de la protéger dans sa quête, aussi profane et dangereuse soit-elle. De la folie d'Hitler aux frasques du général Patton, l'enquête de Sarah et Gabriel les mènera sur les sentiers obscurs de l'histoire.

After all, who better for a Shadow King than a cunning, villainous queen? How Asia Works Joe Studwell,2013-07-02 "A good read for anyone who wants to understand what actually determines whether a developing economy will succeed." —Bill Gates, "Top 5 Books of the Year" An Economist Best Book of the Year from a reporter who has spent two decades in the region, and who the Financial Times said "should be named chief myth-buster for Asian business." In How Asia Works, Joe Studwell distills his extensive research into the economies of nine countries—Japan, South Korea, Taiwan, Indonesia, Malaysia, Thailand, the Philippines, Vietnam, and China—into an accessible, readable narrative that debunks Western misconceptions, shows what really happened in Asia and why, and for once makes clear why some countries have boomed while others have languished. Studwell's in-depth analysis focuses on three main areas: land policy, manufacturing, and finance. Land reform has been essential to the success of Asian economies, giving a kick-start to development by utilizing a large workforce and providing capital for growth. With manufacturing, industrial development alone is not sufficient, Studwell argues. Instead, countries need "export discipline," a government that forces companies to compete on the global scale. And in finance, effective regulation is essential for fostering, and sustaining growth. To explore all of these subjects, Studwell journeys far and wide, drawing on fascinating examples from a Philippine sugar baron's stifling of reform to the explosive growth at a Korean steel mill. "Provocative . . . How Asia Works is a striking and enlightening book . . . A lively mix of scholarship, reporting and polemic." —The Economist

Divine Names on the Spot II F Porzia,C Bonnet,2023-09-14 English summary: Names, images, and narratives are intimately related and frequently polysemous. As pieces of information on the gods, they convey fragments of knowledge and attempts to interpret the multifaceted complexity of the divine world. In what Robert Parker describes as an archipelago, images and narratives are like compasses used to approach the mapping of the gods. The different contributions collected in this volume, dealing with the Greek and the Semitic worlds (the two main areas of the Mapping Ancient Polytheisms project), explore connections but also discrepancies between these different semantics, in order to highlight specificities and commonalities in the onomastic and iconographic languages. French description: Les noms, les images et les recits sont intimement liés et volontiers polysemiques. En tant qu'éléments d'information sur les dieux, ils véhiculent des fragments de connaissance et constituent autant de tentatives d'interprétation de la complexité multiforme du monde divin. Dans ce que Robert Parker décrit comme un archipel, les images et les récits sont comme des boussoles qui facilitent la cartographie des dieux. Les différentes contributions rassemblées dans ce volume, traitant des mondes grec et sémitique (les deux principaux domaines abordés dans le projet Mapping Ancient Polytheisms), explorent les connexions mais aussi les divergences existant entre ces différentes sémantiques, afin de mettre en évidence les spécificités et les points communs entre langage onomastique et langage iconographique.

Media Manifestos Régis Debray, 1996 In this volume Régis Debray sums up over a decade of his research and writing on the evolution of subjects of communication and the technologically transmitted interventions of the modern intelligentsia in France. Media Manifestos announces the battle-readiness of a new sub-discipline of the sciences humaines: mediology. Scion of that semiology of the sixties linked with the names of Roland Barthes and Umberto Eco and affiliated trans-Atlantically to the semiotics of C.S. Peirce and media analyses of Marshall McLuhan (media is message), mediology is in dialectical revolt against its parent thought-system. Determined not to lapse back into the uncritical empiricism and psychologism with which semiology broke, mediology is just as resolved to dispel the cult or illusion of the signifier as the be-all-and-end-all, slough off the scholasticism of the code, and recover the world in all its mediatized materiality. In this enterprise its ally is the work of French historians of mentalité, of the hard and evolutionary sciences, and of the technologies of transmission (from stylus and clay to quill and parchment to press and paper to mouse and screen). Written with Debray's customary brio, Media Manifestos is no mere contribution to the vogue of media studies. It remains steeped in the intellectual culture of Louis Althusser and Michel Foucault, indebted to the neolithic anthropology of Leroi-Gourhan and the study of science and technology of Serres and Latour, informed by the material histories of the Annales school, yet plugged into the audiovisual culture of today's videosphere (as against the printerly graphosphere of yesterday, and the scriptorial logosphere of the day before that). Debray's work turns a neologism (mediology) into a tool-kit with which to rethink the whole business of mediation from the city-state to the internet.

The Lost One Naemi Tiana, 2022-12-29 #1 Have an adventure - check #2 Find confidence - check! #3 Experience real love - check? Yeah, I figured I had it all ticked off on my journey as an exchange student in America. I lived an adventure when he opened the door to his world for me. I found my voice through his challenging behavior. I felt true love when I heard those three little words. . . Nothing was holding me back from driving off into the sunset with Paul Shields—the person who made me feel at home, no matter that my home was thousands of kilometers away. Too bad we'd run out of gas. Because he had sucked us dry—damned Jon Henry Denson. He invaded my dreams. Not because he was the unattainable, emotionally unstable embodiment of a bad boy but rather because his pain and mine. . . were the same. A pain that I wanted to evade by leaving Germany, only to find that I had been carrying it around with me all along. Yet even the thickest pile of snow eventually melts away, exposing the ugly truth that lies beneath. And I had to admit to myself—sometimes what we want is not what we need. But what do I need?
